Dear Friend of Literacy:

Thank you for your interest in becoming a volunteer tutor with The Literacy Council! Becoming a tutor means so much more than helping an adult learner improve his or her reading skills. You will be helping to change a life when the adult learner gets a better job, registers to vote, obtains a library card, helps a child with homework for the first time, or does one of a hundred other things that we take for granted each day.

Enclosed is a listing of the free tutor training workshops The Literacy Council is currently offering and answers to some of the most frequently asked questions about literacy. There are nearly 100 adults on the waiting list for tutors, so won't you please complete and return the enclosed tutor training registration form today? When your registration is received, you will receive a confirmation postcard. After concluding the workshop, you will be contacted to schedule a meeting to get acquainted and help determine the type of student with whom you're interested in working.

If you have any questions or concerns, please call the Council at 963-READ (7323). It is our hope that you will join The Literacy Council tutor who recently wrote, "The happiness I get from tutoring fills my cup. Thank you for the opportunity."

We thank you.
